

NEW YORK IN LINE FOR ROOSEVELT

State Convention Unanimously
Indorses Him.

The Platform Covers a Diversity of Pertinent Subjects Important
Just Now.

THE DELEGATES ARE CHOSEN

New York, April 13.—The Republican state convention unanimously incorpoated the administration of President Roosevelt, and instructed its delegates for him. Senators Platt and Depew, Governor Odell, and Judge
F. S. Black were chosen delegates.

Immediately after the adjournment the state committee unanimously elected Governor Odell as chairman.

The platform reaffirms the devotion of the Republicans of New York to and confidence in, the principals of their party. It declares that the election and inauguration of Wm. McKinley and the restoration to power of a party pledged to the encouragement of Democratic activity, an honest system of finance and the expansion of our commercial interests was followed by the enforcement of these policies.
The Democratic party, the platform asserts, with imperialism and militarism, as its slogan, attempted to mislead the people into the belief that territorial aggrandizement was the ultimate object of the Republican policy and offered the fallacy of free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 as a substitute for the basic principle of the gold standard and an honest dollar, and with numerous mischievous and united theories of government endeavored to demoralize the public confidence and shatter the faith of the people in the party in power.

Among other things the platform says: We commend Theodore Roosevelt for the fearlessness and good judgment with which he entered upon solution of problems of social economy and government. We recognize the rare capacity he has exhibited in meeting all the requirements of his great office. We realize that his official note have justified the public confidence, which is the fundamental factor of his popularity.

"Accordingly, we indorse the administration of Theodore Roosevelt, believing in his loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, relying on his devotion to the interests of American citizens, and confiding in his wisdom, his courage and his statesmanship, we hereby direct that the delegates this day chosen, use all honorable means to bring about his nomination for president at the national convention to be held in June.

"The president's action touching the Panama canal is indorsed and the enactment is favored of such legislation as shall give to American built ships, officered and manned by American citizens, the carrying of the larger part of our foreign commerce in order that the nation shall have both the ships and the men as resources of defense in time of trouble and in order that American working men may have the building and running of the ships employed in doing our foreign carrying."

The principle of a protective tariff is upheld and the freedom of the ballot without discrimination as to race or color is demanded.

TENNESSEE CENTRAL IMPROVES

Friar's Point, Miss., April 13.—At Farrell, a village on the Y. and M.

recaptured.

THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Barcelona, April 13.—Joachim Miguel Artao, who attempted to stab to death Premier Maura, committed suicide when arrested by dashing his head against a wall. The premier is very unpopular in Catalonia on account of his prompt suppression of labor riots, and it is supposed that this is one of the causes that led the anarchist to attempt his life.

T. C. LOOKING UP.

Nashville, Tenn., April 13.—At a meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Tennessee Central rail-at the meeting include not only the payment of receiver's certificates and the obligations which caused his appointment, but also for the payment of all the indebtedness of the road of every character. As soon as the re-ceivership is terminated, the company will proceed with the improvements already mapped out for different parts of the line.

and high in the esteem of his neighbors and was charged by Mr. Will Fry of forging an endorsement to a note for $150 payable to Jake Englert. Dr.
Davis was tried in circuit court last summer and given one year in the penitentiary, but by a hard fight and the acquisition of new and important testimony for the defense, a new trial was secured, resulting in acquittal.

Dr. Davis will return to the county where he will again take up the practice of medicine.

HUGH MULHOLLAND IS DOWN AGAIN

Arrested in Brooklyn, N. Y. for Larceny.

He Claimed His Downfall Dated Back to His Career in Paducah.

HE STOLE TRADING STAMPS

Word comes from Brooklyn, N. Y., that Hugh Mulholland, once postmaster of Paducah and a prominent man here, was yesterday convicted of grand larceny in the second degree and will be sentenced Monday. He was charged with receiving a quantity of trading stamps stolen from his employers by companions and selling them for $50, half of which he kept.

It seems from press dispatches that Mulholland has been drinking heavily lately. He told a rather gaudy story to the court about his career in Paducah, and it failed to win much sympathy for him.

The eventful career of this man is probably familiar to most of the people of Paducah. He was convicted of pilfering registered letters while postmaster here, but escaped the penitentiary. He afterwards drifted about the country and became an evangelist, in which work he was for several years apparently quite successful.
Later on he became a "promoter," and had something to do with the deal transferring the Grand Rivers property to new hands. He came to Paducah two years ago looking quite prosperous and appeared to have a good position with a Boston concern.

It is said that he used while here then, some of his old tactics, getting money from friends on worthless paper. He was also arrested here on information filed by his purveyor from the east, alleging that Mulholland had stolen some papers from a grip, but the case was dismissed after Mulholland had been under arrest a few days. He left the city and has not been back since.

A few months ago newspaper clippings were sent here from near Los Angeles, Cal., stating that one Hugh Mulholland had committed suicide there by drowning, and it was thought possibly it was the Mulholland formerly of Paducah, but it develops now that it wasn't.

Mulholland, when arraigned in the King's county court, said he was postmaster of Paducah, Ky., 12 years ago, and was arrested on the charge of robbing the mails, but that as he was about to be convicted a mail carrier confessed to the theft and the postmaster was then acquitted. Mulholland says the mail carrier afterwards committed suicide. Mulholland says he went to Boston and became a street evangelist. He then entered business and cleared $10,000, and felt so elated over the success that he went into a saloon to drink some sherry wine. To the judge he said, "From the day I drank the accursed stuff I date my downfall." After speaking at length Mulholland stopped and Judge Crane reserved his decision.

twenty-one suits being the record up until press time.

The suits ranged from $5 to $15,
and the allegations were varied.
Some were on notes, while others were on breach of contracts, debts and garnishees.

Smedley power of attorney to transact

A HARD FIGHT

Will be Made in Four States by Republicans.

No Doubt of President Roosevelt's Election, But No Chances to Be Taken.

Washington, April 13—President Roosevelt and his intimate political advisers have decided that the managers of the national campaign next fall ought to concentrate most of their energies in carrying New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Indiana. This decision was reached at a quiet conference held at the White house.

At this meeting the national political situation was reviewed with great care and regard for detail. The conviction was entertained that Mr. Roosevelt would be re-elected but that a vigorous campaign would be necessary to assure Republican success. It was admitted that, while the chances favored Republican victory in the four states mentioned, it was unwise to accept as a foregone conclusion that success therein was certain.

In the judgment of the president and his counselors, the conservative Democrats will control the convention at St. Louis in July. This signifies, in their opinion, that the opposition party will put up a very energetic campaign and that the Republicans must be prepared for a struggle in the close states. Arrangements to this end will be made as soon as the Republican ticket is nominated in Chicago and the national committee is reorganized.

AN ILL WIND

BLEW AN ILLINOIS MANS' HOUSE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

Nathan Shick, our well known house mover, spent last week near Brookport moving a barn on the Lynn place, says the Metropolis Herald.

By Thursday the barn, which is a large one, had been moved from its foundation and placed on rollers. Board tracks were laid and all was in readiness for actual progress. About this time a heavy gale, which have been so prevalent in these parts lately, began blowing and work was discontinued temporarily by the workmen.

Presently as an especially fierce gust of wind came along, Mr. Shick was both surprised and pleased to see the barn move along the track as though drawn with team and block and tackle.

Had the breeze held Mr. Shick might have been able to move the Lynn barn in record breaking time.

FEW PENSIONS

QUITE A NUMBER CONTEMP-PLATED AS A RESULT OF NEW ORDER.

Several inquiries are coming in from veterans who intend to make application for "service" pensions under the recent order which goes into effect on April 13. From present indications there will be a number of new names added to the list of pensioners who are now being paid.

Under the new ruling all veterans who have attained the age of sixty-two years will be permitted to apply for and receive a pension of $6 a month. At the age of sixty-five years they will be entitled to $8 per month, at sixty eight years $10 per month and at seventy years to $12 per month.

It will not be necessary for the applicants to allege any disability other than the infirmities of age. The new ruling does not affect pensioners who are receiving a higher rate on account of disabilities.

PLANS FORMED

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR PYTHIAN HOME TO BE TAKEN.

The canvass for subscriptions for the Pythian Home will begin at once. The committee appointed recently to take up the matter held a meeting at the Gleaves establishment last night, and decided to send out blanks at once for donations, none of the subscriptions to be binding unless the Home is located here. Those present at the meeting were: Messrs. Charles Reed, George Dalms, Fred Nagel, Alex Kulp, H. H. Leving, Al Young, John Niehaus, Abe Weil and Lawrence Gleaves, the latter chairman.

Those who subscribe will have a year in which to pay, one fourth to be paid through local banks every three months. The bids for the Home will be opened at Dayton, Ky., May 7th, and the committee will recommend to the grand lodge which city should be awarded the home. No difficulty is anticipated here in raising the necessary $5,000.

SECOND CALL

REV. FRANK PIERER AGAIN SOLICITED AS PASTOR OF LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Last night the members of the German Lutheran church held another meeting and decided to make the second call on Rev. Frank Pieper, of Warburg, Ill., who several weeks ago declined a call here.

Rev. Pieper is known to be an excellent minister and the congregation is anxious to have him take this charge. No decision in the matter of the call is expected until the minister has had sufficient time to fully consider it.

Mr. Tom Glenn, formerly telegraph operator in the office of Chief Dispatcher J. T. Cheek, has been transferred to the Paducah Union Depot as night ticket agent and operator.

Mr. W. G. Owsley has been acting as night ticket agent and has resigned his position. The resignation was sent in several weeks ago but no one could be secured to satisfactorily hold the office, and Mr. Glenn's many friends are confident he will be successful.

SCRAP IRON MEN

Will Feel the Effects of the Trust Loon.

The Magnates Buy Direct Instead of
Through the Dealer.

Scrap iron dealers are the latest sufferers from the trust movement, and during the past week the big steel foundries have instituted a movement which will result in driving out of business nearly all the small dealers in scrap iron.

The larger dealers say they will be able to hold their own and that they will not be affected.

Finding that the scrap iron dealer was making money, especially on railroad iron, and with a desire to get all the profit there is to be made in the business, the big steel plants are buying the iron direct from the railroads. Instead of buying it through the dealer or broker. In this way the dealer is brought into direct competition with the big plants which have immense capital, and unless the dealer has money he cannot compete. If a railroad has one hundred tons of old rails for sale, instead of selling to the scrap iron dealers, as formerly, it advertises for bidders and the steel plants come in with their bids, which are usually in advance of the sum which can be offered by the dealer.

In this way the dealer is forced to the wall, or must confine himself to the small iron peddling business in which there is little money. Old steel rails are resold rolled in the smaller steel mills and made into new and lighter rails. The selling of old rails and much larger pieces of old steel and iron is the principal business with the large dealers.

COMPLETELY FAGGED OUT

A painless sickness—you couldn't describe your feelings if you tried. You know you are sick, but perhaps there is no special ache or pain to indicate the seat of the disease. The pale, colorless skin, muscular weakness, nervousness, fitful appetite and all-gone, tired feeling means anaemia or blood poverty, a weak, watery and unnutritious condition of the vital fluid. The system is clamoring for richer and better blood; the muscles and nerves are starving for the food that the blood can no longer supply, and it is little wonder that the body grows weaker and is soon completely fagged out. You can't retain vigor and strength on poor blood. It must be full of nutrition and life-giving properties. Health is bound to decline and the system run down if its source of supply is cut off. Everything that goes to nourish the body and sustain life passes through the blood. It contains bone-making, tissue-forming material, food for the nerves, and stimulates and vitalizes all the organs of the body. It can't do this when clogged with impurities and polluted by poisons and poisons, for it then becomes a source of disease instead of health, and leads to innumerable disorders.

This season of the year the blood is most apt to break down because of the extra efforts made to throw off the winter's accumulation of poisons, and if weak at the beginning it soon gives out and the system collapses. Nearly everybody needs a good blood purifier and tonic now to help out the blood and aid in cleansing the circulation of all obstructions, and as soon as this is accomplished and the system is receiving a supply of rich nutritious blood, color returns to the skin, the nerves are again tingling with health, the appetite increases—and that completely fagged-out feeling disappears. S. S. S. contains both purifying and tonic properties, making it the ideal remedy in such cases, and being a strictly vegetable medicine doesn't shock the system or derange the stomach and digestion like Potash, Arsenic and other strong mineral compounds. S. S. S. for the Blood is known everywhere as the greatest of blood purifiers and tonics, and for years has been used in all diseases due to an impure or weakened condition of the blood. Under its tonic effects the general health rapidly recuperates, and nothing helps the appetite and promotes digestion like S. S. S. Keep the blood, the fountain source of health and life, free of impurities and in a vigorous and strong condition, and you will never experience that completely fagged-out, nervous state so common at this time of the year. If you would like medical advice or other information, write us and your letter shall have prompt attention from our physicians. Book on the blood and its diseases mailed free.

Don't Be Sick

Sickness is called a living death. It is a disorganization of the system, a weakening of the functions and a decay of the bodily tissue. As a sufferer from female troubles don't you often feel dead to all that makes life a pleasure and a blessing? Wine of Cardui relieves pain and suffering. It is a positive cure for menstrual irregularities. It will stop bearing down pains and ovarian pains and eliminate the weakness which is the cause. By curing leucorrhoea it frees thousands of lives from dragging aches and constant waste. It cures barrenness and its strengthening effect robs motherhood of much of its suffering. With $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui in every drug store there need be few sick women in this city. If you are sick, begin the treatment promptly—begin it today.

WINE OF CARDUI

NORTH ALTON, ILL., June 9, 1903.

A few months ago my health seemed to break down altogether. I lost my appetite, could not sleep and was in the very slough of despondency, which was greatly aggravated at the functional period. Our physician was unable to give me anything which was of the least benefit to me and I kept getting worse and was very nervous and hysterical. A friend who had used Wine of Cardui suggested that I try it. So I sent for some and within two days after I started to use it I felt a great deal better. I could sleep at night and gradually the nervousness passed away. I became strong and had no pain at the period. I am now enjoying the best of health due to the merits of Wine of Cardui for which I am deeply grateful.

ONLY NINETY DAYS TO INSTALL SYSTEM

Illinois Central to Begin Work at Once.

From Paducah to Central City
the First Will Be Placed in.

BUSINESS NECESSITATES IT

It is announced that the new block signal system on the Illinois Central between Paducah and Central City will be working within ninety days. It will at present be used only between Paducah and Central City.

Yesterday's Courier-Journal says: The new arrangement will practically preclude the possibility of both head-end and tail-end collisions, as under its workings every train is required to be beyond the signal station ahead before another train can enter the section between the two stations. The switches are locked by the electrical appliances and cannot be opened until the first train reaches the safety distance.

The undertaking by the Illinois Central is one of great difficulty, and if it is a successful experiment its use will be gradually extended to the remainder of the system. The electrical block signal system is in wide use on double track lines, where the trains on one track all run in the same direction, and the Illinois Central will be practically the pioneer in extending it to single track lines. The system will require the construction of much more double track on the line than is now in use, and now track will be put in at intervals of four and one-half miles for the distance of 100 miles.

The frequency of trains between Central City and Paducah, owing to the heavy shipments of coal, forest products and the large business from Evansville south, has made it necessary for the road to be more guarded against the increased possibilities of wrecks and it is believed that the new system will afford the safeguard needed.

It is stated that the double tracking of the Illinois Central road, now practically completed, and the general betterment of the system will conduce to a reduction in operating expenses more than sufficient to offset the higher wages which have been largely responsible for the decrease in net earnings shown by the system in the current fiscal year.

A DANDY FOR BURNS.

Dr. Bergin, Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends; as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns. Those who live on farms are specially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency.' 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

But our advice is really worth a little more to you than most people's, for we offer to give you the first bottle of our medicine free, if it fails to help you. We could not afford to do this unless our medicine was good. Such an offer, on the wrong kind of medicine, would put a merchant prince in the poor house. All we ask of you is to try Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for your complaint. The Paducah Sun, easily one of the most prosperous and excellent daily papers in Kentucky, is making great strides in its progress under the management of Editor Frank Fisher. It has recently put in a fine new press to keep up with the growing demands of its circulation, and on Saturday purchased the entire plant and business of one of its competitors, the Paducah Ledger. The success of the Sun is a noteworthy achievement in journalism and business, because it is an extremely popular stalwart Republican newspaper in an overwhelmingly Democratic section.—Louisville Herald.

THE STATE CROPS AND TOBACCO NEWS

Wheat May Turn Out Better Than Expected.

Cold Weather Has Somewhat Retarded Growth of Some of the Crops.

THE LOCAL TOBACCO MARKET

The crop state report indicates a promising condition of fruit and grains, although the cold weather has greatly retarded growth. It follows.

Very cold weather prevailed during the week, with frequent light rains. The rainfall was heaviest in the northern and eastern portions and lightest in the south central portions. Frosts or freezing weather occurred on the 4th and 5th, but no serious damage is reported.

Wheat was not so badly winter-killed as was feared, and now appears to be strong and healthy; it has made very slow growth on account of continued low temperature.

Tobacco buds are in good condition and plants are coming up fairly well, but it has been too cold for good results.

Out sowing is in progress and quite a portion of the crop is in the ground.

Planting for corn has been delayed by frequent rains in many localities.

Early potatoes and some garden truck have been planted, but the cold weather has delayed this work.

The prospect for fruit is quite good. Peaches and plums are in bloom and some early varieties of strawberries.

Pastures and meadows are generally in good condition.

Farm work has been badly delayed by frequent rains and cold weather and is now very late.

TOBACCO MARKET.

Louisville: The first sale on the breaks since last week, held yesterday, resulted in a further advance in the Burley tobacco market of from $1.50 to $2 per hundred. This applies to all grades of red- and color leaf, trash and lugs.

The cheapest grades are selling higher than since 1870. The better grades are very firm, but are not in such good demand as the others; still it is thought they will probably go higher. The Continental company is taking everything in sight.

Cincinnati: Pronounced strength characterized the tobacco market today. Offerings were small and the quality fair. Buyers were out in full force, and the bidding between the independents and Continental buyers was the liveliest for a long time. Under this competition prices on all grades were advanced sharply. Medium grades made up the bulk of the offerings and sold as high as 19 3/4c a pound. Offerings amounted to 90 hogheads.

Clarksville, Tenn.: Increased activity on the break and loose tobacco market has marked the past week. The receipts of cash tobacco for the week amounted to 645 hogheads, and the sales footed up 99 hogheads.

The local quotations for new tobacco for the week just ended follow: Logs, $3; leaf, $4; good leaf, $5.00; fine leaf, $10 to $15.50.

DAILY THOUGHT.

"The largest room in the world is the room for self-improvement."

THE WEATHER.

Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday.
Local rains tonight.

All Judge Parker needs now to "cook his goose" is for Mr. Bryan, too, to come out for him.

The indications are that Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson may now return to the navy. He has had his eyes opened.

The mayor is willing to allow Alderman Durrett to name his successor—provided he names the man the mayor wants.

The fans are getting impatient. They want to see whether we are going to have baseball this year, or town hall, as last year.

The latest stunt of the "dog eaters" at St. Louis was to tear up $5 bills. They need a little of that benevolent assimilation on tap over where they came from.

It is predicted that Mr. Bryan and Mr. Hearst may bolt the St. Louis convention. They needn't be so elated, however. The Cleveland men are "some bolters" themselves.

If former Councilman Hummel is appointed alderman, the time of holding the board meetings should be changed from Thursday to earlier in the week, to insure adjournment before Saturday midnight.

When Captain J. M. Ezell, who was deposed by the local officeholders trust, is made "official dog catcher," he should impart a few of the vigorous and thus solve two problems, to catch the canines and dispose of the remnants.

The Democrats are very much put out because the senate decided to allow a few congressmen to "investigate" the postoffice department. Even if the department hadn't been run right, what would a congressman know about it?

Our factions contemporary, the Mayfield Messenger, in detailing the departure of a wholesale whiskey house from Mayfield, says the liquor "was hauled back to the city where there is always a demand for it." We expect this is about right, as many a Mayfield sport can attest. The only difficulty is that when our neighbors come here "a-visiting" they always want a little trouble in "theirn."

Our enterprising Cairo contemporaries are trying to make it appear that the gonboats are not coming up the Ohio, with a hope of inducing the people up this way to come to Cairo and see them. The scheme will not work. It is not known, of course, that the vessels will come this far, because it is not known what the stage of water will be. It has been daily settled, however, that they will come if there is water enough in the river.

Judge Parker's evident desire to have nothing to say will now serve him to advantage. Ex-Governor Hogg, of Texas, has come out in an open letter in which Judge Parker is asked how he stood on the Cleveland-Carlisle endless chain of 1893-97; if he favors the extinction of the trusts; how he stands on an income tax; what his attitude is toward the silver issue, and if he voted for Bryan in 1896. The judge can't afford to answer these questions, but if he does he will probably accomplish all his friend, Mr. Cleveland, overlooked.

OTHER RAILROAD HAPPENINGS

Mr. J. R. Parel, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, was in the city last night, a guest of Engineer John Trantham.

Mr. Parel is president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and last night made the firemen a talk on the affairs of the brotherhood. Mr. Parel is an able speaker and has done much for the order. He is traveling over the different roads looking after the interest of the firemen. Twenty-five members were taken into the order last night.

Mr. William Renshaw, superintendent of machinery of the I. O., arrived in the city this morning from the south and went over the local shops.

Mr. Renshaw is on his regular inspection tour and will probably recommend changes on his return to Chicago.

Paducah has become an important point in the mechanical department of the I. O. from the fact that so much general repairing has been done the past summer and winter, and so much remains yet to be done. There is a great deal of money tied up in the damaged rolling stock which must be gotten out for service as soon as possible, and improvements to facilities or suggestions to promote the completion of the work, may be ordered by Supt. Renshaw.

Last night the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen met, but for the first time in many weeks no new members were initiated. The committee appointed from this order last week to act with committees from other trades unions did not report, having reached no definite result in the matter of organizing the trades council.

There are four committees appointed to effect the organization of this trades council, one committee being appointed from the machinists, boiler-makers, blacksmiths and carmen. The painters are in with the carmen and the tinners in with the boiler-makers. The committees are hard at work and will have the matter in proper shape for a full report within the next week, it is thought.

Pneumonia Is Deadly.
In Chicago and New York, according to recent statistics, pneumonia has now superseded pulmonary tuberculosis as the cause of greatest mortality.

Government Fixes Prices.
In Hungary the prices of veterinary medicines are fixed by the ministry of agriculture.

Thirteen new theatres, to cost $3,000,000 are being built in New York city.

In the first week of May the temperature in some parts of India rose to 114 degrees in the shade.

DON'T SMATTER

GO TO THE ROOTS AT ONCE.

If you have ails, go to the root of the trouble, it may be coffee as with an Iowa lady who had an experience of which she says:

"We all know 'The root of all evil is money' but a well known saying in a few years will be: 'The root of all stomach troubles is coffee, at any rate that's what I think from my own experience and that of my friends. For three years I have been a sufferer from terrible stomach trouble scarcely able to do home duties at times having so severe attacks I would be bed-ridden for a week at a time."

"Last September I was taken very sick with one of these attacks and in such distress as my stomach was too weak to take it, the physician was compelled to inject medicine into my arm. A friend came to see me and told me she had just such attacks until she ceased drinking coffee and drank Postum."

"When I became able to sit up I resolved to abandon coffee and began the use of Postum and would you believe it that was my last sick spell, for I am now entirely well and strong with all my ails gone and bounding good health in their place. My little nursing baby has derived as much benefit from it too as she has lost her peevishness."

"Postum is nourishing and palatable and when properly made it is certainly delicious for it has the sweet taste of pure grains and leaves no bitterness in the mouth." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

How many people in the neighborhood are just the same? They "don't believe" it comes from coffee. Neither did this lady until she gave up coffee and tried Postum.

There's a reason. Look each package for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

THE WAR ON

Straight Whiskey Men Send Out Many Letters.

Explain How Saloon Men May Blend Their Own Whiskey.

The rectifiers of whiskey in the city yesterday made a discovery of a plan which the straight whiskey men have adopted to fight the blenders, says the Louisville Herald. There is nothing illegal in the plan as used, and the rectifiers say that there are no steps which they will be able to take to put a stop to the practice.

Under the revenue laws any saloon keeper is allowed to blend without purchasing a rectifier's license, provided the work is done in quantities of less than five gallons. The straight whiskey men have taken advantage of this provision of the law, and are sending out letters to saloon men in every state in the union, giving them the most minute instructions as to the manner in which all rectifying or blending should be done, the percentage of various chemicals to be used and where they may be purchased.

In a word the entire business of the rectifier is laid bare to every saloon man, in such a manner that he will have no difficulty in turning out the finest blends in his own saloon at a trifling cost. All the secrets of the trade, such as the use of cologne, spirits, bending oil and coloring matter, are told. The only precaution which the saloon man is compelled to take in doing his own blending and rectifying is to be certain that the quantity made up any one time shall not exceed five gallons. The straight whiskey men claim that they have secured the secret formulas of all the finest blends, and these are being supplied to the saloon trade free.

The rectifiers admit that there is no way to stop the dissemination of this information, as it simply shows the saloonkeepers how they may blend whiskey without either paying a license or violating the law.

BISHOP'S DAUGHTER

MISS DUDLEY WEDS A DEPOSED CURATE.

New York, April 13—Against the wish of her family, it is said, Miss Catherine Dudley, daughter of the late Bishop Thomas Underwood Dudley of Kentucky, was married to George Sherman Richards, a deposed curate. The wedding took place at the brick Presbyterian church on Tuesday, March 29. There had been a public announcement that the ceremony would be performed at Grace church, Chantry, on April 4.

Richards came from a Pennsylvania charge some time during the winter of 1902-3, and became a junior curate of St. Michael's Episcopal church. On April 28, 1903, in Grace church, Bishop Potter deposed him. Rev. G. H. Bottom and Rev. Charles T. Walkley being in attendance.

Several days before the wedding Richards called on Rev. Dr. William Richards, it is said. According to Dr. Richards, he told the pastor that he wanted to get married and had been attracted to him because of the name, which was the same as his own.

"He was a Christian Scientist, he told me," said Dr. Richards.

"The woman, he said, was an Episcopalian, but many of the clergy of that denomination objected to celebrating the marriage ceremony in Holy week. I did not know that Miss Dudley was a daughter of Bishop Dudley until some time after. I certainly did not know that Mr. Richards was a deposed clergyman."

THE LEE BOATS

Will Pass Paducah Regularly This Season.

Four Boats May Alternate Between Cincinnati, Memphis and St. Louis.

Cincinnati, O., April 13—Cincinnati is assured of a through line of packet boats running to Memphis, St. Louis and the lower rivers this season. Those interested in the new venture are Captain Robert E. Lee, president of the Lee line of Memphis; Captain James Henderson, president of the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh Packet company; Captain J. E. Ellison, superintendent of the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh packet, and Captain James Rees of the James Rees Sons of Pittsburgh.

The company will put four first class boats in this service when navigation opens this season. They will also build a new wharftboat to take the place of the Big Sandy wharft which was sunk and carried away a few weeks ago. As an experiment the new company will send the Peters Lee out of here next Saturday. This boat will alternate with the Rees Lee during the remainder of the present season in this trade. When navigation opens this season it is the intention of the company to have two boats a week from here to the lower rivers. If business justifies, the company will build more boats to accommodate the trade.

Captain R. W. Wise has been engaged as superintendent and agent of the Cincinnati offices, which have been established here, and John C. Dorman has been engaged to look after the freight traffic of the new company.

The Pittsburg Commercial Gazette says: "Local river interests are watching the outcome of a lawsuit about to be settled in the Marietta, O. courts. The case has to do with the question of steamboat boilers and requirements on the part of builders as to fulfillment of contracts. The jury has been out two days. The suit was brought by Captain Dana Scott, John Phillips and Captain Jesse Wallace, owners of the steamer City of Pittsburg. They alleged that the boilers on the boat were not installed according to specifications, and about $10,000 damage is sought. The questions involved have been somewhat of an annoyance to steamboat owners for some time. Constant inspections of the boilers makes it necessary that this feature of steamers be given particular attention in construction, and the decision on technical points in this trial will settle many similar questions."

Mrs. T. M. Davis and Mrs. Virgil Presnell, of Smithland, were in the city today.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

Warren Smith approached Helen and inquired if it would be asking too much if they petitioned her for some music, and she went to the piano and sang some darky songs for them, with a quaint suggestion of the dialect. Two or three old fashioned negro melodies of Foster, followed by some rollicking modern lullabies, with the movement and spirit of a tin shop falling down a flight of stairs. Her audience listened in delight from the first. But the latter songs quite overcame them with pleasure and admiration, and before she finished every head in the room was joggling from side to side and forward and back in time to the music, while every foot shuffled the measures on the carpet.

When the gentlemen from out of town discovered that it was time to leave if they meant to catch their train Helen called to them to wait, and they gathered around her.

"Just one second," she said. And she poured all the glasses full to the brim. Then, as she stood in the center of the circle they made around her, she said:

"Before you go I want to pledge each other to our success in this good home grown Indiana elder that leaves no tripled. Two new men were brought from Hoven for the editorial and reportorial staff, and Parker talked of new presses. During the first week of the daily venture Eph Watts struck oil, and the Herald boomed the field. People swarmed into town; the hotel was crowded; strangers became conversation whatever. A capitalist bought the whole north side of the square to erect new stores, and the Claybank began the construction of a new bank building of Bedford stone on the corner opposite the Herald. Then it was whispered, next affirmed, that Main street was to be asphalted. That was the end of the 'old days' of Plattville.

But the man who had laid the foundation upon which the new Plattville was to be built, he who through the quiet labor of years had stamped his spirit on the people, lay sick in his friend's house and did not care.

Tom Meredith had taken him from the hospital to his own home on a quiet street in Rouen, and John was well enough of his hurts to be taken abroad sometimes in a victoria, where he reclined, gray and thin, seemingly no more than a long afternoon shadow. But for days he would lie in a lethargy that made Tom despair. The soul of the country editor was sick inside of him; he was weary and worn, and pain had left him dulled, except when he thought of returning to Plattville; then he felt physical horror. The place did not need him, nor he the place. Fishbe had found a young relative to run the Herald, who signed his typewritten business letters "H. Fishbe" in a strapping hand that suggested six feet of muscle splashing ink on its shirt sleeves.

John wondered idly where old Fishbe had raked up a relative, and he thought it probable that H. Fishbe was a Yankee cousin of the old man, but he did not care much for that or for anything except to keep away from Carroll for the rest of his life, since he was to live. And there was no longer need to go there. He was glad to know that. H. Fishbe had written him before the oil bubbled in Eph's wells that to buy stock in Mr. Watts' company might be profitable, especially as the stock was then so low that it was almost imperceptible, and Harkless had a little money he had saved. He let Meredith arrange it for him, and a few days later the stock leaped cloudward.

However, his modest riches interested him as little as did everything else. He left his bed less and less, took no more drives, and his lethargy deepened.

The only thing in which he showed interest was the congressional campaign of the district. It was far advanced before the Herald spoke of it at all, and Harkless saw that McCune had lifted his head.

One day Tom came in and found him writing on a pad on his knee, as

Robert, Sept. 2. —

Dear Mr. Fishbe—Yours of the 1st to hand, I entirely approve all arrangements you have made. I think you understand that I wish you to regard everything as in your own hands. You are the editor of the Herald and have the sole responsibility for everything, including policy, until after proper warning, I relieve you in person, if that ever happens, but until that time regard me as a mere spectator. I do not fear that you will make any mistakes. You have done very much better in all matters than I could have made myself. At present I have only one suggestion: I observe that your editorial concerning Harkless' nomination are something lukewarm. It is very important that he be renominated, not so much on account of securing his return to Washington (for he is no Madison, I fear), but the fellow McCune must be beaten if we have to send him to the penitentiary on an old issue to do it. The man is corrupt to the bone. He has been bought and sold, and I am glad the proofs of it are in your hands, as you tell me you found them, as directed, in my desk. The papers you hold drove him out of politics once by the mere threat of publication. You should have printed them last week, as I suggested. Do so at once; the time is short. The Herald is a little paper (not so little nowadays, after all, thanks to you), but it is an honest one, and it isn't afraid of Rod McCune and his friends. Please let me see as hearty a word as you can say for Harkless. You can write with ginger. Please let us have some in this matter. I am, very truly yours,

JOHN HARKLESS.

When the letter was concluded, he handed it to Meredith. "Please address that, put a 'special' on it and send it, Tom. It should go at once, so as to reach him tonight."

"H. Fishbe?"

"Yes—H. Fishbe."

"I believe it does you good to write, boy," said the other as he bent over him. "You look more chirrupy than you have for several days."

"It's that beast McCune. This young Fishbe is rather queer about it. I felt stirred up as I went along." But even before the sentence was finished the favor of age and utter weariness returned, and the dark lids closed over his eyes. They opened again slowly, and he took the other's hand and looked up at him mournfully; but, as it were, his soul shone forth in dumb and eloquent thanks.

"I—I'm giving you a jolly summer, Tom," he said, with a quivering effort to smile. "Don't you think I am? I don't—I don't know what I should have done."

"You old Indian!" said Meredith tenderly.

Three days later Tom was rejoiced by symptoms of invigoration in his patient. A telegram came for Harkless, and Meredith, bringing it into the sick room, was surprised to find the occupant sitting straight up on his couch without the prop of pillows. He was reading the day's copy of the Herald, and his face was flushed and his brow stern.

"What's the matter, boy?"

"Mismanagement, I hope," said the other in a strange voice; "worse, perhaps. It's this young Fishbe. I can't think what's come over the fellow. I thought he was a treasure beyond dreams, and he's turning out bad. I'll swear it looks like they'd been—well, I won't say that yet, but he hasn't printed that McCune business I told you of, and he's had two days. There is less than a week before the convention, and"—

He broke off, seeing the yellow envelope in Meredith's hand. "Is that a telegram for me?" His companion gave it to him. He tore it open and read the contents. They were brief and unhappy.

"Can't you do something? Can't you come down? It begins to look the other way."

"Tom, give me that pad and pencil," said the sick man. He rapidly dashed off a note to H. Fishbe.

Sept. 5. —

H. Fishbe, Editor Carroll Herald:

Dear Sir—You have not acknowledged my letter of the 2d of September by a note (which should have reached me the following morning) or by the alteration in the tenor of my columns which I requested, or by the publication of the McCune papers which I directed. In this I hold you greatly at fault. If you have a conscientious reason for refusing to carry out my request it should have been communicated to me at once, as should the fact—if such be the case—that you are a person (or impersonal, if you like) friend of Mr. Rodney McCune. Whatever the motive which prevents you from operating my paper as I direct, I should have been informed of it. This is a matter vital to the interests of our community, and you have hitherto shown yourself too inert in accepting my slightest suggestion for me to construe this failure as negligence.

You will receive this letter by 7 this evening by special delivery. You will print the facts concerning McCune in tomorrow morning's paper.

I am well aware of the obligations under which your extreme efficiency and your thoughtfulness in many matters have placed me. It is to you I owe my unearned profits from the transaction in oil, and it is to you I owe the Herald's extraordinary present circulation, growth of power and influence. That power is still under my direction and is an added responsibility which shall not be misapplied.

Are you sorry for McCune? I warned him long ago that the papers you hold would be published if he ever tried to return to political life, and he is deliberately counting on my physical weakness and absence. Let him rely upon it—I am not so weak as he thinks. I am sorry for him from the bottom of my heart, but the Herald is not.

You need not reply by letter. Tomorrow's issue answers for you. Until I have received a copy I withhold my judgment.

JOHN HARKLESS.

Tomorrow's issue—that fateful print on which depended John Harkless' opinion of H. Fishbe's integrity—contained an editorial addressed to the delegates of the convention, warning them to act for the vital interest of the community and declaring that the opportunity to be given them in the present convention was a rare one, a singular piece of good fortune indeed.

They were to have a chance to vote for a man who had won the love and respect of every person in the district—one who had suffered for his championship of righteousness; one whom even his few political enemies confessed they held in personal affection and esteem; one who had been the inspiration of a new era; one whose life had been helpfulness, whose hand had reached out to every struggler and unfortunate; a man who had met and faced danger for the sake of others; one who lived under a threat for years, and who had been almost overborne in the fulfillment of that threat, but who would live to see the sun shine on his triumph, the tribute the convention would bring him as a gift from a community that loved him. His name needed not to be told. It was on every lip that morning and in every heart.

Paducah's Club is Now About

Tomorrow a Crack St. Louis Team Will Be Here for a Series.

GOSSIP OF THE DIAMOND

In regard to balking the National League officials have issued instructions to umpires to adhere closely to the rules of the game and to pronounce balking when ever the pitcher makes any move towards delivering the ball to the batter or any baseman. Right handed pitchers are handicapped by this, not being allowed to even look at first base unless he intends to deliver the ball there. In the case with left handed pitchers, this matter will amount to little, as the natural attitude assumed by the left handed twirler will enable him to watch first base closely.

This new rule was made to promote base running, one of the most pleasing features of the National game. Kitty league umpires will be as strictly instructed in regard to balking as will the National league umpires, having adopted to the letter every rule of the National league.

With the signing of second baseman Whitehead, Louisville; Fielder Flanders, Arkansas; Fielder H. E. King, Nashville, the team at Clarksville, Tenn., is full and the boys will be "put through the mill" at once and be gotten into shape for the season. Clarksville will have a few old faces on the team, among them being Reiney, who played first base, and who will this season manage the team. Clarksville will, however, sign more men and carry a total of fourteen men.

Tomorrow a crack team from St. Louis will arrive here for a series of three games, and the local fans will doubtless be out in force to see the game. The team will be picked from the best material in East St. Louis and will be a hard proposition to go against. The locals have no doubts of winning from them, however.

Brady will report here today or tomorrow for duty on the local team, and the team will then be complete, all members being here for work.

Brady was unable to report here earlier on account of a position he held in Terra Haute, having to wait until after the 10th before he could be relieved. He is an excellent pitcher, a fast fielder and a sprinter with a record.

Sweeney, the Louisville first baseman who was released here last week, returned home last night.

Ned Zinkan, of Vincennes, has been appointed an umpire in the Kitty league.

"DO IT TODAY."

The time worn injunction, "Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it today!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it today—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of long standing. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

LIVELY TIMES ABOUT THE WHARF

Nearly a Dozen Big Steamers
There at One Time.

Reminded River Men of Old Times on the River Here.

It has probably been many a day since there was such an array of handsome steamers at the wharves as were on hand at one time this morning.

There was the big Cincinnati excursion boat Island Queen, the Evansville packet Joe Fowler, the Cairo packet Dick Fowler, the Tennessee river steamers, Olyle and Tennessee, the Cumberland river boat H. W. Buntorf, the Golconda packet Royal, and the smaller boats, such as the Bettie Owen, Cowling, Henrietta, and some towboats.

The wharf was a scene of great activity, and all the boats seemed to have a good business.

The Joe Fowler made a quick run from Evansville, coming down in twenty two hours, and doing a good business on the way.

The packets are now all having better trade, as the falling river gives them access to a great many landings they could not reach during the recent high stage.

The trade is now picking up rapidly, and hundreds of thousands of ties are to be moved this summer. The boats all bring out big loads every week, and the railroads at Brookport and Joppy are taxed to their fullest to handle them.

GRAND SALE OF LOTS.

The Northview Realty and Improvement company has about 70 lots on 11th and 12th streets, in Paducah, Ky., which it will offer for PUBLIC SALE most reasonable terms, in JUNE NEXT, unless sold before that time. These lots are situated in Paducah, Ky., and lie between Rottgering's farm and the city.

The streets have been lately gravelled. The lots have beautiful shade trees on them, and lie high above the streets.

An ordinance has been adopted to extend 12th street on beyond this property to Rowlandtown, and the street car company will extend its line from Trumble street on down 12th street by this property to Rowlandtown.

This property is certainly most attractive and desirable, and will soon be built up. There are no lots in the suburbs of Paducah more desirable for homes. The adjacent property is being rapidly improved, many houses having been erected recently. For particulars apply to W. D. Greer, General Manager, Paducah, Ky., March 15, 1904.

BROKE THE LAMP AND CAUSED A FIRE

Infuriated Negro Responsible for Loss of House.

He Was Ejected and Demolished the Lamp with a Flat
Iron.

THE LOSS IS VERY LIGHT

The hasty action of an infuriated, drunken negro, George Wright, caused the loss of all the household effects of Clacie Patterson, colored, who lived near Monroe and Second streets, and also the loss of the house, owned by Jim Pruitt.

Wright had been staying at the Patterson woman's house, and she says became so filthy she refused to let him longer remain.

He returned last night shortly before 11 o'clock very drunk and stated he had come to take his room back. Robert Radford was at the house and fired Wright out. The latter picked up a smoothing iron weighing about five pounds and threw it at Radford, whose successful dodge saved serious injury to himself but resulted in the loss of the entire household goods and house.

The iron struck a lamp, and demolished it, scattering burning oil over the back room. The Patterson woman was sleeping in a chair and was awakened by the blow and explosion. An alarm was sent in but the interior of the house, which was papered with newspapers and filled with straw bed ticks, was in a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. By hard work the fire was prevented from spreading to adjoining buildings.

All contents was destroyed and the loss will amount to several hundred dollars to the woman and about $100 to the owner of the house, Mr. Jim Pruitt.

UNWELCOME GUESTS

MANY PARASITES INFEST
HIGH SCHOOL ROOMS.

The high school building on West Broadway has been populated by a tribe of pests very disagreeable to the pupils, and every effort is being made to rid the building of them.

The intruders are a common species of Swallow parasites and both Misses Kirk and Noble's rooms in the High School department, third floor, are completely overrun with them. The only way the school authorities can account for their presence is that swallows and bats have made their homes in the spacious chimneys of the building and the parasites naturally found their way into the building.

The discovery was first made several days ago and the matter kept quiet until the rooms could be fumigated. Every afternoon after the dismissal of the pupils, the janitor has been fumigating every room where traces of the bugs are found, and has succeeded in killing a large number. By constant and diligent fumigation Supt. Lieb hopes to rid the room of the visitors.

ALL BUT THE MUSIC

The programme for the High School Commencement exercises had been completed except that portion pertaining to music, which will be an important feature of the programme.

Miss Grigsby, the music teacher, will meet with the High school teachers this afternoon and complete this part of the programme, and then the entire programme will be handed in to the printer for publication.

The pupils will begin next week preparing for the exercises and the school authorities intend to make this the best commencement ever held in the city. The class is an unusually large one and is composed of the brightest and most attractive young men and women to be found anywhere. Something of a novelty is promised in the musical line this year.

Work is still practically suspended on South Third and North Fifth streets on account of the disagreement between contractor and city engineer.

Mrs. Thomas Wilboye, who has been dangerously ill at the residence of Mrs. Katie Craig at Sixth and Monroe streets, is much better.
